1. [REDACTED] were given dismissal notices. None of the employees involved belonged to the SED. Of the 15 employees who were given dismissal notices, four found employment with other DIA agencies, while two were rehired by DIA Kompensation after they had acquiesced in a reduction of their monthly salary from 460 to 350 DME. The salaries of the other employees of DIA Kompensation were also cut. The measures were explained by the requirements of the new 1955 table of organization according to which the number of employees of the higher paid positions were to be reduced. The employees of DIA Kompensation greatly resented these economy measures, especially since the three directors of the agency were not affected by them. 25X1
2. From an employee of DIA Feinmechanik and Optik (precision mechanics and optics) it was learned in early February 1955, that all employees of DIA would be classified into a lower wage category. 25X1
3. Between 20 and 23 February 1955, it was learned that the employees of almost all DIA agencies were classified into lower performance categories. This measure was equivalent to an average wage reduction of 10 percent. The measures were resented by DIA employees, especially by those who were badly disabled during the war.
